

MANUFACTURING & DISTRIBUTION

Accounting and tax for manufacturing and distribution companies requires unique knowledge and experience involving such critical issues as capitalizing inventory costs, revenue recognition, properly identifying which state and local sales and use taxes are applicable and not applicable, and identifying all activities and costs that make for desirable, but defensible, tax credits, to name a few.

For this reason, the expertise of your accounting and tax advisors is critical to maximizing your company's strength, financial stability and viability.

MANUFACTURING & DISTRIBUTION CLIENTS

Our team has been providing a wide variety of services to a broad range of privately and publicly-held manufacturing & distribution companies for decades, including:

MANUFACTURING & DISTRIBUTION TEAM

Calvin Rowland, CPA
Partner

Calvin Rowland leads HoganTaylor's Manufacturing & Distribution practice. He has substantial experience serving clients in the manufacturing industry and serves as lead engagement partner for many of the firm's largest audit clients.

Calvin began his professional career with the HoganTaylor predecessor firm Tullius Taylor Sartain & Sartain in July 2000. In addition to his manufacturing expertise, he has provided assurance and business consulting services to a wide range of both publicly and privately-held clients in many other industries including insurance, construction, oil and gas and non-profit organizations.

Tony Otto, CPA
Partner

Tony Otto is the Manufacturing & Distribution practice's tax lead. He has more than 20 years of experience working with clients in the industry.

Tony has been helping manufacturing and distribution clients navigate the many pitfalls of the tax code for the better part of his career. He assists them in minimizing their tax liabilities by keeping abreast of the many changes in the tax code that affect manufacturers and distributors alike by taking advantage of the many credits and deductions unique to their business situation. He brings a unique set of skills to the table which encompasses both the current tax issues and long-term exit strategies for the ownership group.
