

NONPROFIT: COLLEGES, UNIVERSITIES & PRIVATE SCHOOLS

- Educating future leaders
- Ensuring the safety of students on campus
- Complying with the complex rules governing student financial aid
- Wrestling with massive online open course changes
- Recruiting and retaining faculty

These are just a few of the issues the institutions of higher education are trying to manage. Challenges at the federal student financial aid level have increased the challenge of setting tuition rates and analyzing tuition discount statistics. Economic fluctuations impact endowment fund returns and challenge your development team to raise the necessary funds for scholarships, faculty, programs and housing needs.

In this environment, it is understandable that industry experience has emerged at the top of the list of what nonprofit organizations need and expect from their accountants and advisors. HoganTaylor has a commitment to “Service” written into our organizational values and we have intentionally focused on providing a wide variety of services to nonprofit organizations since our firm was founded. In recent years, we have taken this philosophy a step further by creating a dedicated nonprofit group whose members not only understand the unique aspects of nonprofit organizations, but have developed in-house processes specifically designed to serve our nonprofit clients unique compliance and organizational needs.

HOGANTAYLOR APPROACH

Due to the incredible diversity among nonprofit organizations, increasing changes in financial reporting rules and continued public scrutiny of information included in tax filings you need service providers who understand what makes your nonprofit unique.

- HoganTaylor is a charter member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Governmental Audit Quality Center. Membership is indicative of our commitment to providing quality financial statement and compliance audit services to our nonprofit clients receiving governmental assistance.
- Our dedicated, interdisciplinary team is focused on understanding your needs and expectations and working with your management and Board to best serve your needs.
- Our senior team members attend the AICPA National Nonprofit Conference each year, staying abreast of current issues affecting nonprofits. We conduct in-house training for all levels of our service team to ensure all clients are served by knowledgeable, highly trained personnel. We also regularly lead external trainings for a variety of organizations to ensure you have the information you need to be successful.
- We utilize secure portal technology developed specifically by HoganTaylor which allows you and your engagement team to collaborate and communicate on one central platform. This HT-specific solution enables all of the involved parties to participate and contribute to the success of your engagement.
- We have also created a dedicated team to perform the Single Audit Compliance testing of Student Financial Aid Programs for all of our higher education clients. The members of this team are highly trained in the specialized terminology and testing requirements mandated by the Department of Education.
