

AT THE HEART OF DISCIPLINED INVESTMENTS

November 2019

At Disciplined Investments, one of our passions is to make families stronger.

We do this by providing well-thought-out, evidence-based and client-centered investment and wealth management solutions to our clients. Possibly the most enjoyable aspect of our days is getting to know many of our clients on a personal level, and having the honor to share in your lives as well as those close to you.

Because we've grown into the new markets, and have added a few new faces over the last few years, we want to give all of our clients a chance to become more familiar with our team.

In the fifth installment of "At the Heart of Disciplined Investments" we want you to get to know Austin Bryan, our newest Senior Advisor and first DI professional in our Fayetteville, Ark. office.

ABOUT AUSTIN

Austin Bryan is a Senior Advisor at Disciplined Investments. He holds the Certified Financial Planner™ designation and takes pride in helping create a comprehensive wealth plan that will fit clients' unique and individual needs. With four years of tax preparation experience as well as five years of financial planning and wealth management, he has a unique skill set to help individuals and organizations reach their financial goals.

WHO IS THIS AUSTIN GUY REALLY?

Besides being fashionable, calm, cool and collected 🧘, Austin is a genuine people person. You can often find him holding up the door frame of someone's office, getting updates about their lives, and talking about what's new in the office. Austin is a legit listener and conversationalist. Between his family, friends and colleagues, Austin loves spending time building and creating new relationships with absolutely everyone.

Since he is originally from North Carolina, Austin is a die-hard Carolina Panthers fan — so much that he went to their first game of the season in London, England while he was on vacation a few months ago! Austin's passion for the Panthers began from the strong connection everyone in his family has to cheering on the Panthers together. He is the oldest of four kids and his entire family loves spending time together — usually around food and traveling, in that order.

Austin is constantly reminded of how limited his intelligence is by the most important person in his life, his daughter Sloane. Sloane just turned four years old, and is full of joy, incredibly kind and (thankfully for Austin) loves spending time with her dad. Some of their favorite activities together are swimming, dancing, riding bikes, yoga and meeting new dogs in the area! Austin also enjoys pretending he is still athletic by doing things outdoors and at the gym, traveling to as many places as possible, and spending time with friends.
